The Effortless English Club
Automatic English For The People

Bubba's Food - Vocabulary

Hello and welcome to the vocabulary lesson for Bubba's Food. Let's begin.

First, we see Sarah Smith who lives in San Francisco, went shopping for cat food. Who lives in San Francisco? Who means Sarah. Sarah Smith, Sarah lives in San Francisco. Who lives in San Francisco? Who is same as Sarah okay it's Sarah. So, Sarah lives in San Francisco. She went shopping for cat food in the past. She went shopping. Sarah is thirty years old, her age is thirty. She lives at 3037 Market Street. That is her address. Her apartment is 3037 Market Street, her house 3037 Market Street.

She has lived there since 1990. So starting in 1990 she lived in that house, until now. From 1990 until now, that's why we say has lived. Since 1990 starting in 1990, until now. Sarah is married. She's married to a man named John. She has been married for seven years, again has been. Starting seven years ago until now. She married seven years ago, seven years in the past until now. So, has been married. Her husband John and Sarah have two children and one very big cat. Two children, one big cat. Their son Bob is five years old. Their daughter Nancy is three years old. Their cat Bubba is two year's old, so Bubba is two.

Bubba is huge. Huge means very, very, very big. So Bubba is a very, very big cat. Bubba is huge, giant very, very, very big very, very, very big. He is huge. Bubba is huge, huge, huge super big, huge. Bubba weighs 258 pounds he's super huge at 258 pounds. He weighs 258 pounds. That is one-hundred seventeen kilos, kg, kilograms 117 kilograms and 258 pounds a super big huge cat. Bubba is a huge cat. At 9 a.m., 9 in the morning, at 9 a.m., Sarah got into her car and drove to the pet store.

Now were talking past, past this happened already finished. Sarah got into her car and drove past of drive. Now I drive. Yesterday I drove. Yesterday I drove. Now I get into my car. Yesterday I got into my car. So, Sarah drove to the pet store. She bought 68 bags of cat food, bought. Now I buy. Yesterday I bought, bought. She bought 68 bags of cat food. Wow 68 bags of cat food for $10 each plus tax. They were $10 each. Each bag of cat food was $10, cost $10. The regular price, regular means normal. So the normal price, the regular, price the regular normal price was $15, so she got a good deal got a good deal. To get a good deal means to find, to get a good price. It means you pay less than normal. Normal price was $15 she paid only $10, so she got a good deal.

We have used this many times, it's a normal phrase to get a good deal say I got a good deal means a good price you pay less than normal. She got a good deal. The total was $680; 68 bags $10 each, the total was $680. She paid by credit card. She used her credit card. We say paid by credit card or paid with a credit card, so she paid by credit card or she paid with a credit card, with "a", by credit card or with "a", credit card. She paid by credit card.

On her way home Sarah stopped at a convenient store to buy milk. On her way home means while coming home or during her trip home right so it's at the same time. While she is coming home she stops at a convenient store.

So on her way home, meaning as she traveled home, as she came home, while she came home, same meaning all of those same. So, on her way home she stopped at a convenience store to buy milk. Bubba loves milk. The milk was $3 for one gallon. Sarah bought 30 gallons. One gallon is about 4 liters, so one gallon about 4 liters. She bought 30 gallons of milk for Bubba. She paid $100 total and got $10 back in change. To get back means returned to you, so she gave, she paid $100 and then received $10 in return.

She gave $100 and then she paid too much, so they gave her $10 back. She got $10 back. She received $10 back to her, to her again. So she got $10 back in change. In change means the extra money, the extra money she paid. The cost is $90 dollars. She paid $100, so $10 change. She got $10 back in change. Sarah got home at 11 a.m. Again, here got means returned or came. She got home. She returned home. She arrived home. Same basic meaning. She got home at 11 a.m.

Bubba was waiting at the door at the same time. She got home. Bubba was waiting. These two are at the same time, so was waiting, waiting. Bubba was waiting at the door. He was very, very hungry. So she got home at 11 a.m. and Bubba was waiting at the door. He was very hungry.

That is all of the vocabulary for this lesson. Listen to this lesson everyday, until you know all of the vocabulary. Also, use your dictionary if you don't understand a word use your dictionary.