A Kiss – Vocabulary

Welcome to the vocabulary lesson for A Kiss. Let's start.

Carlos buys a new car it's very expensive. It's a huge blue fast car. Huge, huge means very, very big, super big. So that's huge, huge, huge means very, very big very, very, very big. It's a very, very big car it's a huge car. While driving down the street he sees a girl. So while means, at the same time, same time driving down the street, seeing the girl same time. They happen at the same time. So while driving down the street Carlos sees a girl on a bicycle. Okay he yells to her what's up? What's up is a common way to say hello.

We say what's up, what's up? It's very popular to say what's up. So instead of saying hello if you have a friend, you see your friend, someone you know you say what's up. When I see my friends sometimes I say what's up. It means hello or how are you. So what's up, what's up? So Carlos says what's up to the girl, but she ignores him. To ignore means you don't listen to someone and you don't pay attention to someone. You don't look at them. You don't listen to them. That's ignore. He ignored her means he did not listen to her. He did not look at her. He ignored her or ignores present ignores.

She ignores Carlos. She does not look at Carlos. She does not listen to Carlos, she ignores him. Then Carlos yells how's it going? How's it going, how's it going means how are you, how are you. We often say how's it going or how's it goin', the last sound (g) going, going sometimes no (g) sound goin', goin', goin' it's the same meaning same just different pronunciation. So how's it going, means how are you? So he yells to her how's it going? She keeps walking and ignores him. Keeps here, keeps means continues. Keep has another meaning. Keep can mean something else, but here in this article keeps means continues, continues. She continues walking. She keeps walking. Okay keeps and continues.

So she keeps walking and she ignores him. He yells why won't you talk to me? Okay won't means will not, why will you not talk to me is what he's saying. In normal speech, normal speaking we don't say will not we usual say won't. I won't go to the store, means I will not go to the store and it's future. So he asks her why won't you talk to me? Why will you not talk to me and he says I want to go to dinner with you. He wants a date. He wants to go to a restaurant with her. He says I'll take you to an expensive restaurant not a cheap restaurant right he wants to take her to an expensive restaurant. Finally, the girl turns, looks at him and she says I don't want to go to dinner, but she says if you give me your car I will give you a surprise.

Give me your car and I will give you a surprise. So, if you give me your car, so he has to do that first the first action and if that happens then she will give him a surprise. Carlos says okay, because she's beautiful. He jumps out of the car. He gives her the keys and he says here are the keys. Okay, here are the keys. We usual say here is the book, here are the keys we say here is or here are, when we give something to someone. Here is the key. Here is the money. Here are the keys.

Okay so, Carlos gives keys to the beautiful blonde girl. The beautiful blonde girl takes the keys and then kisses Carlos on the cheek. Cheek is the side of your face right, so she kisses Carlos on the side of his face on the cheek, just on the cheek and then she jumps into the car and drives away. Carlos stands on the sidewalk. Sidewalk is next to the street it's where people walk so, the street the street is for cars. Cars and buses only and the sidewalk next to the street right sidewalk where people walk side of the street.

So he stands on the sidewalk and now he has no car and no girl. He says that's it just a kiss on the cheek. Okay that's it, that's it. That's it means there is no more there is nothing more, nothing more is coming, nothing more to get nothing more to do. So, basically it means finished so he says that's it, it means he only got a kiss he will not get more from her, he will not get something else only a kiss that's it. Sometimes we say that's all, that's all, same meaning. That's all or that's it, means totally finished.

In a restaurant you will use this when you finish eating the waiter or the waitress will come and ask you do you want something else. Do you want more food? Do you want more drinks? If you're finished you say that's it. That's it means we are finished eating we don't want more food we don't want more drinks. We are finished bring the check, bring the bill. So at the end when you finish eating in a restaurant tell the waiter that's it, means you're finished.

Okay and then he says that's it just a kiss on the cheek. Then he gets on her bike, the girls bicycle, bicycle or bike same and he rides home. Poor Carlos.

Okay that's it, that's it the lesson is finished, the vocabulary lesson is finished, that's it.
